The headings used in this Agreement are included for convenience only and will not limit or otherwise affect these Terms. You agree that you understand and accept that cryptocurrencies and all derivatives and financial instruments on crypto exchanges should not be construed as traditional currencies, stocks or securities in any material respect. Cryptocurrencies and related assets and derivatives and derivatives on cryptocurrency exchanges have so far mainly been used as a means of financial speculation, are not based on stable values, are difficult to value rationally, have large fluctuations in value, and do not fall into traditional categories. Crypto exchanges use trading practices that are prohibited on traditional exchanges. The SPCM Token Project, and at the same time the other companies associated with the project, is not a financial advisor and does not provide financial advice. Cryptocurrencies and all related derivatives and financial instruments on cryptocurrency exchanges should not be construed as traditional currencies or shares or securities. This market is highly risky, speculative and unregulated. At the conclusion of the Consultation, the Client acknowledges all risks that may arise. Cryptocurrencies and all related derivatives and derivatives are an extremely risky asset, where most users lose their funds to a greater extent than anticipated, and it is therefore extremely important for clients of a service, product, product to be aware that capital gains are not guaranteed, gains are purely speculative and can be lost quickly. SPCM Token Project, offers advice for all products and services on crypto exchanges, but primarily representing cryptocurrencies and derivatives. SPCM Token Project, prefers that the client holds the funds in their own wallet. Crypto markets and all derivatives and derivatives on crypto exchanges are extremely volatile markets that can experience extreme gains or extreme losses in a short period of time, we are talking about a few minutes. Accordingly, SPCM Token Project operates conservatively with the primary purpose of preserving fiat value and making a profit. The customer should be aware at all times that, notwithstanding any gain or loss previously made, a significant loss of underlying capital and profit may occur in an extremely short period of time. The Customer acknowledges that the only financial currency to be considered is the value of the fiat currency (euro or dollar). When a client decides to transfer property and assets, it does not matter in which currency the client has done so, the fiat equivalent on the date of transfer is always looked at and only this is considered as initial or share capital. In no case should any other value be taken into account.
